

How To Use This Manual

The manual should be used as if you are on a journey

- Start at the beginning and follow the map to each location in sequence
- This is not a race so don't proceed to the next module until you are sure that the last module is now part of your lifestyle and not just head knowledge
- Remember that although you may be at a more advanced stage on your own personal journey those that you will be mentoring (either now or in the future) may not.
- The goal is that anyone using this manual systematically will be able to engage true sonship regardless of their starting point.
- Please don't be tempted to take short cuts on this journey.
- Developing your own pathways to engage God in relationship and responsibility will require desire and discipline if it is to become a delight.
- Developing your own pathways will take daily practice.
- The exercises contained within the manual are just the scaffolding to enable you to build a house that you can abide and dwell in.
- I am sharing my journey with you so that you engage your own personal journey.
- The prayers and exercise are just a starting point, please adapt them for yourself using your own language and illustrations.
- God will communicate with you as a unique, precious individual. This is part of the adventure to discover how for yourself.
- The heavenly realms are a multiverse environment not operating with the same physical laws of time and space. This means your experiences and the symbolic nature of what is communicated to you during your encounters will be very personal to you. Again this is part of the adventure to discover how God relates to you both within you and in the realms of heaven.
