- Technology such as high resolution cameras, laser microdissection, and molecular probe development all aid in the understanding of our natural environment.

Pathway of Responsibility

- Plants need light to photosynthesise food the process turns CO₂ into oxygen
- Would be not be able to breath or eat without light
- Without sunlight we would not live as the planet would be too cold

Pathway of Responsibility

- Spectroscopy: used to analyse in medical and other fields
- Light is used for analysis of compounds by spectrophotometry, colorimetry, atomic absorption spectroscopy, chromatography.

Pathway of Responsibility

- Solar energy: Sunlight helps to generate green energy or renewable energy.

Pathway of Responsibility

- Signal system: Light is the key visible signals.
